2014 HARVEST

This year the harvest started about 10 days later, mainly due to a cold winter and high rainfall late in 2013. The last grapes were also harvested a week later than last year.

The grapes were of good quality and the 2014 wines look very promising. Good aroma and flavour components in the white wines and good colour and structure in the red wines.

We are looking forward to some excellent wines in 2014!
